A few simple clicks may fundamentally change ideas and preconceptions. Survey&Report lets you view things from an entirely new perspective.

Easy to learn and to use

The program is web-based, simple and intuitive. It also contains instructional videos and help texts providing explanations and tips regarding all the functions.

Fast distribution of surveys

Publish the surveys on your website or intranet, or send out a link via e-mail. Remember to send out reminders to secure a high response rate!

Smart software

Target selected groups with relevant questions, perhaps aimed at students in a particular course or customers that purchased a certain product. Ask follow-up questions based on a respondent's answers or categorisation – and obtain the exact information you need.

Automatic translations into multiple languages

Create multilingual surveys if you have respondents with various mother tongues. Survey&Report supports 67 languages with various alphabets and has a simple interface for automatic translations!

Fast and simple survey construction

Save time by creating templates for questions, entire surveys, design themes or reports. You can also copy previous surveys or questions.

Custom designs

Match the survey with your graphic profile using images, fonts, colours and many other settings. Or maybe you want to create a completely unique design, and perhaps insert a video clip or two?

Tailored reports with just a few clicks

Create reports with all the charts and tables of your choice. Survey&Report offers all types that you can possibly need – and helps you create great designs!

Presentations on the web

Survey&Report lets you create complete presentations in the actual software. Choose between saving them as PowerPoint presentations, PDFs, Word documents – or why not just publish your presentations online!

Adapt Survey&Report to your needs

Additional plug-ins provide extra benefits and make working with the program even easier.

SR-Advanced Survey

SR-Advanced Survey gives you access to advanced question types such as image maps, side-by-side matrices and open matrices. It also lets you create paper surveys and scan surveys that have been filled out on paper, and provides you with access to the paper mailing function that lets you print messages to your respondents.

SR-Advanced Report

If you have special requirements for your reports, this plug-in may prove useful. It contains three main functions: the possibility to create report readers, e.g. users with limited access to selected reports, a module for textual analysis and an advanced calculation function for creating indices and comparing surveys.

SR-LDAP

SR-LDAP lets you import both users and respondents directly from a directory service. Thus all information is kept up-to-date automatically and you can create a user environment with a single sign-on. The plug-in eliminates unnecessary administration and lets you add more new respondents quickly and easily.
